

- Degree of hydrolysis: 98.5 mol%

- Tension speed: 50 mm/min (Measured at 20°C and 65%RH.)

The higher the degree of polymerization, the stronger the POVAL membrane. When thermal processing is performed, crystallization progresses and further increases the membrane strength.